Final Presentation Details

We realized that final project presentations conflicted with the Capstone Project fair (which we want you to be able to attend!!) so we moved our class's final presentations up a day earlier:

Final presentations will be Monday March 16, 5-8pm, which is now properly updated on the calendar and course website.

> NOT as on MyUW

Let me know now if you have issues with the scheduling!

Due today: project software design exercise

- You've uploaded to GitHub, right 😉 ?
- We'll take a look and give you a grade, as well as any notes on your proposed design.
- You may fix any issues for regrade during the final project evaluation

Next week: initial project demo

- Goal: show off what you've done so far + Technology Review
  - …you've done something so far, right 😉 😳?
  - It doesn't have to be anywhere near complete!
  - But it should do something
  - Be prepared to talk through your Technology Review
- How it will work
  - The TA and I will walk around the room
  - You'll demonstrate your project to either Riyosha or me
  - Low stress!
- Grading: participation

Standups!
